

The value of our life is not determined by whether or not we are wanted by our parents. It is not determined by our physical appearance, intelligence, race or creed, the socioeconomic group we belong to, our athletic ability, level of education, age, or our ability to contribute to society. Our value is intrinsic, given to us by our Creator who fashioned each one of us lovingly in the palm of His mighty hand. We need to fight for the rights of every tiny unborn child—the most innocent and defenseless of our human family.

Montana Constitution Article II Section 17
